

Technology Empowers Education

Micro Technologies signs an MOU for Business Management and Technology

Micro Technologies India Ltd. has signed an MOU with South Indian Education Society College of Management Studies (SIESCOMS) for Business Management and technology in the summer months. The deal provides the opportunity for the students of SIESCOM to work with a professional expert in the field of IT and security.

Micro Technologies believes in promoting interactions with educational institutes. This will expose the students to the real workings of the industry, as well as allow the seasoned company to gain new perspective.

SIESCOMS conducts educational programs in the various disciplines of business management and technology. Says Dr. A K Sengupta, Director, SIES College "This is the exclusive opportunity for the student where they can learn and have the experience of the corporate world. This join activity will benefit for their employment. It is small step towards the success. I would also like to thanks Dr. P. Sekhar, CMD Micro Technologies India Ltd. for their support and the all Micro Technologies Staff to give approval for this activity. He also added "This relationship with Micro Technologies will benefit both the institute and the students. It will prove to be a learning experience for the students, and gain from the industry experience that Micro Technologies has"

The MOU is being entered into to formalize the relationship and provide a framework to conduct activities jointly. Students of SIESCOM seek to understand the security segment as a whole, and how it is relevant, and imperative in the lives of any consumer today. This programme seeks to focus on educating the students on the current scenario, and the exposing them to the latest technological developments in the industry, and in the innovative solutions that Micro Technologies pioneers in.

This programme has Micro Technologies and SIESCOM mutually support each other in terms of learning and providing growth. Says Dr. P. Sekhar, CMD, Micro Technologies India Ltd. "Its our pleasure to have the Management student from our side we will provide best of knowledge for the business which will help them to develop their future & life. We had named this activity as Technology Empowers Education"

The programme enlists Micro Technologies expertise to aid framing the syllabus to meet industry needs, faculty support for specialized training programs, projects to faculty of SIESCOMS, provide support for academic excellence among students through scholarships, endowment, mentoring, etc, promotion of entrepreneurship among the students while wholly grooming them to be aware and entrepreneurial people.

SIESCOMS will undertake research on behalf of Micro Technologies, conduct management development programmers (MDP) for MT, provide academic support at all times, and will also offer first preference to Micro Technologies for new academic initiatives.
